URGE UNITY TOWIN WAR AS CRISIS APPEARS

Compromise Measure Between Chamberlain and President Possible

BY L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Under the lash that "without harmony the war will be lost," Democratic leaders are whipping into line party legislators wavering on the Chamberlain "war cabinet" bill.

Today it appeared likely that the storm which has broken between the White House and Congress on the measure may be tempered with compromise. The presence of Theodore Roosevelt on the battle ground has done much to consolidate the Democrats back of President Wilson's wishes on the pending legislation. There was even talk of a get-together meeting shortly between the President and Chamberlain.

The telling argument advanced by the Democrats is that a bill, as repugnant as this one is to the administration, would, if passed, hamper war efforts even though an efficient measure itself.

Meantime, however, Chamberlain is prepared for a real fight.

Backed by letters of soldiers' mothers and fathers' anent camp conditions; armed with data on what was regarded as misleading Senate testimony of Secretary of War Baker, Chamberlain proposes to go ahead with his war cabinet bill and his compulsory training law. Popular support of these measures grew, despite the administration's very strenuous efforts to kill them, particularly the war cabinet bill.

Fight to Be More Intense
The fight will develop in earnest tomorrow over reference of the war cabinet bill to come. Senator Swanson, for the administration, will try to have it sent back to the military committee and naval committee. Were it sent back to the military committee alone, action on it would be favorable. With the double reference, it would be caught in the jam, because if Swanson wins, the bill may die.

Swanson's move to refer it will be the signal for Chamberlain to go over the top. He has his bayonets ready and he proposes to submit data tending to prove that the President has been misled into thinking war conditions are better than they really are.

He will submit evidence in an effort to prove that Secretary Baker incorrectly testified before the military committee as to camp clothing shortages. The committee probe testimony will be on every senator's desk as supporting evidence of Chamberlain's charges and as reasons for support of his bill.

To Prove Incompetency
Chamberlain plans to submit proof that the War Department, as at present organized, has failed to meet the situation. He and his supporters argue this is the sole reason they are advocating a change that will coordinate and centralize authority and provide legal authority to get things done in the place of volunteer advice and suggestion.

The administration forces will lay emphasis on harmony and on the fact that the war cabinet as proposed would have direction of naval policies. They will argue that the navy has proved itself critic proof and hence should not be meddled with. In this they will be supported by some Republican senators.

This point is likely to cause the defeat of the war cabinet measure in the Senate where it will take practically all the Republicans, plus five or six Democrats, to pass it.

Johnson for Measure
Democrats who are for the measure include Chamberlain, Hitchcock, McKellar, Hardwick, Gore and Reed. Senator King, Utah, looked on as likely to support it, is non-committal. Senator Hiram Johnson, California, is one of the few senators who think the war cabinet bill stands a chance of passage. He will be a strong advocate of it, believing it will be rendered non-effective by administration opposition, even were it passed over the President's veto.

That the President will veto it if it passed Congress is considered certain and even its most optimistic friends

Austrian Strikes Grow In Intensity Brest Litovsk Discussion Said Final

BRITAIN'S EXPERIENCES AT OUTBREAK OF WAR SIMILAR TO U. S. SITUATION NOW

NOTE—The United Press recently asked its London office to find out exactly what had been Great Britain's experience in the matter of supplying her troops immediately after the outbreak of the war. The idea was to find out for information of the American public whether the nation had encountered the same difficulties as America, as to uniforms, equipment and supplies which have been aired at recent congressional investigations. The following is the first of two stories in reply to this query.

BY LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 23.—America can take consolation and incidentally learn many lessons in outfitting troops, in Great Britain's experience.

Asked by the United Press today how long it had taken the government to catch up with the army's demand for uniforms, the British general in charge of that department answered:

"We were on top of the demand by July, 1915."

Then he added with a frugal, reminiscent smile, "It was on top of us until then."

Asked how the difficulties had been overcome, he replied:

"By darned hard work."

Great Britain's trouble was like America's. With a standing army, not much larger than America's, she was called on suddenly in 1914 to equip an army of millions. The army clothing department, in charge of four officers, employing 1,500 men, had to grow. It is now in charge of fifty-one officers and employs 6,000.

Drilled in Old Clothes
There was no difficulty in providing for the 180,000 regulars first to go and the famous first hundred thousand were likewise well fixed. But of something like a million men in training camps many had to drill for months in their own old clothes.

By December, 1914, the first uniforms manufactured for the new army were delivered. They were of blue cloth. Khaki had not been obtainable. None of the men went to France in the blue; by the time training was completed there were sufficient of the brown uniforms. The blues were then passed along to newer recruits.

First deliveries of uniforms were made by the Manchester Co-operative Societies at twenty-one shillings each (about $25). Meantime, other contracts were let for khaki. Deliveries of these began in April, 1915.

Uniforms in 9 Months
So it was between eight and nine months after England entered the war that the first fighting uniforms manufactured as a direct result of her entering were ready. In three more months a supply sufficient for all needs had been assured.

Until March 1917, the government simply bought at the best price it could, price usually being less of a consideration than quality and speed. Since then the entire trade has been under government control, from raw wool to made up material.

"The chief mistake we made," the general explained, "was in not getting the trade together at the very outset, finding out what each manufacturer could do and telling him to do it. Of course we were handicapped for a long time by not knowing how much of an army we could raise. Now that we have control of the trade all difficulties look comparatively small."

Can Furnish Big Supply
"On demand now the army could get between eight and nine million uniforms a year. Nineteen million have actually been issued since the war began. Prices have grown. Blouses now cost $4.26, against $2.34 in April, 1915. Trousers, $3.24, against $1.64; coats, $8.82, against $5.76."

Other clothes gave the government less trouble, with the exception of socks. It was necessary to buy all the socks in the United States and Canada before the problem of producing them here was solved. Getting shirts and underclothing was comparatively simple.

In distribution of clothing and equipment the general said the one principal lesson learned has been to avoid over-centralization. On this island alone there are fifteen great receiving, assembling and dispatching depots.

Another American soldier is a prisoner in Germany. Sergeant Paul M. Swanson of the engineers, who was reported missing after the action against the boches on December 16, has been located by the Red Cross as a prisoner of the Teutons. Gen. Pershing cabled the War Department this afternoon. Swanson lived in New York.

BRITISH WAR CRITICS START HEATED FIGHT

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Morning Post announces that Colonel Repington, who resigned as military critic of the Times, has accepted a position as the military correspondent of the Morning Post. Some of the morning newspapers comment indignantly on the letter in the Daily Mail and the resignation of Colonel Repington. The Daily News asks how long the country and parliament are going to tolerate "this kind of public assassination" and insinuates that Viscount Northcliffe is the tool of prominent politicians.

COMPLETE BREAK IN PEACE TALK PREDICTED BY BOLSHEVIKI

Official Press Declares No Good Can Be Done By Further Negotiations

BY JOSEPH SHAPLEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PETROGRAD, Jan. 23.—Breaking off of all peace negotiations at Brest Litovsk was forecast in all the bolshevik newspaper organs today. Their unanimity would appear to indicate this prediction came from authoritative circles.

The bolshevik view is that the only good accomplished by the negotiations has been to unmask the real imperialistic nature of the enemy demands. According to comment here, nothing more can possibly be expected from the discussions.

Both the Pravda and the Isvestia today bitterly assailed German Foreign Minister Kuehlmann's "treacherous dual policy."

Official bolshevik reports today claimed victories over the Ukrainian Rada troops at Poltava and the occupation of that city by the Red Guards. On the south Ukrainian front further advances have been registered. Novgorod-Sversk captured and further progress made toward Bachmach. The Ukrainians are retreating. A decisive battle is expected shortly. The bolsheviks have already taken Saratov, Achitina and Troitsk.

Out of respect to the memory of Friday's victims of assassins whose funerals are today, the bolshevik government postponed a scheduled demonstration at the winter palace and Smolny Institute.

The bolshevik government has been informed that the general peace strike at Vienna is due to the stand adopted by the central powers at Brest Litovsk.

Report Protest Received

Delayed dispatches from Brest Litovsk received today told of a formal protest to the peace conferences by General Hoffman, in which he declared he would be compelled to withdraw the German commission on prisoners of war from Petrograd, where it is now negotiating, if the soviet expected to place German officers prisoners on the same level as private soldiers.

The Russian delegation, it was asserted, had lodged complaint to Kuehlmann and German that "central powers" newspaper accounts of the negotiations omitted Trotsky's declaration, in which he denounced the reversal of position by Germany on the principles accepted by the Russians December 25.

The protest, it was stated, "had pointed out that such suppression by the German government of this declaration had misled public opinion in Germany."

MAN BADLY HURT WHEN HIT BY AUTO TRUCK

Knocked Down on Highway at West Chapman Street Bridge This Morning

Joseph R. Shurvington, a truck gardener of West Orange, was seriously injured this morning about 10:30 on the highway near the West Chapman street bridge.

Shurvington started to cross the highway to reach his buggy, in which was his wife. He stepped from behind a passing automobile and was immediately struck by a truck belonging to the California Fruit Company. The truck was driven by M. A. Day.

The man was knocked down and run over. His left ankle was broken, the left collar blade was fractured and dislocated, and he was seriously bruised and shaken up. He was picked up by Paul Kamnath of Orange and rushed to the Anaheim Sanitarium. His condition this afternoon is regarded as serious.

Specific Results Garfield Closing Order Summarized

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—A compilation of the results of the Garfield closing order today show the following results:

The number of ships waiting to be given coal has been reduced from 121 to 30.

The ports have greatly increased their quantities of bunker coal on hand.

Coal is going to domestic consumers in large quantities.

Freight congestion has not been relieved and ship building plants are in danger of being closed unless the freight situation can be cleared.

A freight embargo has been ordered.

The curtailment of passenger traffic has been demanded.

Further workless days are in prospect unless the weather clears.

AVIATION CAMP FOR SANTA ANA POSSIBLE

Chamber of Commerce Asked If Site Is Available In City

That army officials have their eye on Santa Ana as a possible location for an army aviation school, is indicated by a query this morning as to whether this city could supply the grounds necessary.

The query came by long distance and from one in authority. It came unsolicited, for this city has made no effort to secure the location of a school here.

A tract of at least 500 acres is wanted. The query this afternoon received the attention of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, called for the consideration of other important matters. The camp would bring 1000 or 1500 men here—mechanics, aviators and students.

There are several sites in the immediate vicinity of Santa Ana that are ideal for the use of such a school, with weather conditions unsurpassed. Metzger and the directors did not have time in which to make an investigation and report.

It is probable that those who have the selection of a site in hand will come here to look over locations, local men in the meantime getting data on available sites to guide the committee in its investigations.

U. S. TROOPS GOING ABROAD MORE RAPIDLY THAN FIRST THOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—America is sending troops to Europe far more rapidly than was originally planned, according to announcement made public today. It is now estimated, barring disaster, that fully twice as many Sammies will be under General Pershing by June than early estimates provided for.

This fact has been assured members of the senate by President Wilson as an example of the war department's tremendous work. Under the circumstances, the President holds, some mistakes have been inevitable, "but the same mistake has not been made twice," he declares.

BRITISH WAR EXPENSE EACH DAY $36,000,000

DEAD BRITISH CHIEF HARD HIT BY CENSURE

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Testifying at the coroner's inquest into the death of his father, General Sir Beauchamp Duff, commander in chief of the British forces in India from 1913 to 1914, found dead in bed Sunday, a son said the general had been greatly affected by an adverse reference to him in the report of a commission appointed to investigate the Mesopotamian campaign.

The jury found that the death of General Duff was due to an over dose of a sleeping potion, taken to induce sleep.

ACT NEEDED TO RELIEVE FREIGHT TRAFFIC

Ship Building Plate Long In Transit Halts Work of Many Large Plants

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—A temporary embargo on all freight except food, fuel and war supplies was ordered today by Director General McAdoo on the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburgh, the Baltimore & Ohio, east of the Ohio river, and the Philadelphia & Reading railroad.

McAdoo's action followed insistent demands for it by the fuel administration. It was declared to be vital if material and lasting results in breaking the eastern freight jam were to be accomplished. McAdoo took the step because he agreed that it was "absolutely necessary."

Threatened tie-up of the shipbuilding program and intense suffering at many points influenced his decision.

The embargo, McAdoo declared, would last only until the weather moderated. The war supplies which are exempted from the embargo will be only those specifically designated by the War Department. These lines will concentrate on movement of coal into New England, New York harbor and other points and on returning empty cars to mines.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Prodded by a threatened crisis in America's shipbuilding program and increasingly serious conditions at ports and inland terminals, Director General McAdoo was urged to take more drastic steps that the National railroad may break congestion.

Complete shut-down of steel shipbuilding plants appears inevitable soon unless the railroad relieves the shortage in ship plates, officials admit.

One thousand cars of plates, practically all of which have been in transit since December 20 and before, are stormbound. Trace of hundreds of the cars has been lost by traffic men of the shipping board. Meanwhile, steel supplies in the construction yards are diminishing rapidly.

Many Men Idle

In nearly all of the seventeen shipbuilding yards where steel ships are under construction, many men are idle as a result of the cold and material.

The shipping program is far behind schedule and new delays in obtaining tonnage mean more difficulties in keeping up the stream of troops and supplies to the war zone, it was explained.

Should the plants be forced to suspend operation, thousands of employees will be idle with the Government paying the bill, officials said.

In these circumstances the fuel administration has appealed to McAdoo to call for a general embargo on all freight shipment aside from that of vital war supplies and fuel.

Make Headway Slowly

Although the priorities section of the Garfield order, covering preference in the shipping of materials, is still effective and will remain so until otherwise ordered, no great headway can be made unless the rails are relieved of thousands of cars of unessential freight, Administrator Garfield believes. Continued cold weather today brought with it reports of critical suffering in many communities and a situation at some points worse than that which existed before the Garfield order went into effect five days ago.

The only marked relief was that accorded ships at a number of ports. Bunkering was materially increased during the industrial suspension.

Further suspension orders are in prospect. It is pointed out that Washington's birthday falls on Friday, February 22, with Saturday a half-holiday and Sunday and Monday workless days anyhow. Urgent requests to industry and business to close entirely on these four days would serve to give another breathing spell at what is usually the bad weather zenith in the East.

Suggests February 12

Lincoln's birthday falls on Tuesday, February 12, and a four-day suspension might be brought about then with less annoyance than the recent one, it is suggested.

Both of these dates are being considered as timely for launching another general coal restriction order.

Y. M. C. A. TO HAVE BALL COURT ON N. SYCAMORE STREET

Lot Next to Fire Hall Secured
By Lease For Club
Sports

The ten Y. M. C. A. clubs of the city will soon have a basket ball court on which their basket ball teams may practice, and on which contests with other clubs in the county may be held.

Secretary Ralph Cole has secured a lease on the vacant lot on Sycamore street, immediately north of the fire hall, and Saturday boys from the various clubs will meet there to commence work necessary to convert the lot to the purposes of the teams.

There are thirty-seven Y. M. C. A. clubs in the county, most every one of which have basket ball teams.

Secretary Cole has arranged a schedule of contests for the two weeks of January 22-February 2. The first was held last night at Orange, with the Pals and Live-wires contesting.

The following is the schedule for other games:

S. F. BAY FRONT HERMETICALLY SEALED TODAY

Strike Precautions Taken Against Outbreak of Pro-
German Activity

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—San Francisco's water front was sealed up tight as a drum today for the first time in its history, as a precaution against pro-German plots.

Armed soldiers, marines and mounted police patrolled the Embarcadero from end to end. For the first time in months the sentries at the Yerba Buena Island naval station walked their posts with loaded rifles. On the decks of over sixty vessels in port armed marines supplemented each deck watch. Sailors from merchantmen who were not aboard ship at 6 o'clock last night had to stay ashore all night.

While every precaution was taken ashore, powerful searchlights during the night swept the bay from shore to shore, guarding against enemy plots.

In the meantime federal, state, city and military investigators were running down even the flimsiest rumors of plotted violence. Admittance to the waterfront was by pass and on both the San Francisco and Oakland sides of the bay loafers found near shipping points were forced to explain their presence and were told to move along.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce took cognizance of the situation by passing resolutions demanding the death penalty in cases of conviction for pro-German violence.

The precautions of the authorities so far have been successful in preventing any semblance of sabotage.

INDIANA FORCES USE OF WOOD FOR FUEL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Indiana through its state food administrator, Evans Woolen, has been making a vigorous campaign for the substitution of wood for coal. In many of the counties the fuel administrator and the coal dealers are refusing to sell coal to farmers when it is known that they have an available supply of wood fuel.

BRITISH LABOR LEADER CLAIMS REVOLUTION IS COMING

Arthur Henderson Explains
Prospects He Believes
Ahead of English

(NOTE: The Nottingham conference of the Labor Party of Great Britain, today will, according to British writers, give Arthur Henderson, head of the Labor Party, the greatest opportunity of his life. In an effort to learn what Henderson expects to develop from this opportunity and what general effect the conference will have on British political affairs, Lowell Mellett, United Press staff correspondent, recently interviewed the Labor Party leader. During the interview which follows Henderson made several startling predictions as to the future of "the Party of the Future."—United Press)

LONDON, Jan. 23.—British writers, of a liberal bent, have written a great deal in the past several weeks about the conference of the labor Party which opens today in Nottingham. Somewhere in the course of most such articles there has appeared the phrase: "Arthur Henderson has a great opportunity before him." The United Press asked the head of the Labor Party today what he expected to develop from this great opportunity. He answered:

"Revolution."
He spoke in a serious manner, his head down in the peculiar bull-dog manner of British fighting politicians, but he looked up immediately and smiled.

"There's revolution coming, all right," he explained; "but it will be a bloodless affair, entirely political. The British people are seeking the means for a swift transition from the old order of things to the new, but they wish it to be smooth as well as swift. We are recognizing the Labor Party to make it the vehicle for the change."

The reorganization referred to is that proposed by the national executive whereby Labor Party membership will cease to be based exclusively on affiliation with a trades union, but will be open to any voter agreeing with the party's program.

"When the scheme comes into operation it will provide the people with the means of effecting a complete revolution in the control of the state. The revolution will have the thoroughness of the Russian revolution, but will avoid Russia's disasters. The British people have learned how to operate free representative institutions. They are skilled in the practice of political democracy."

Capable of Going Fast
"No people cling more stubbornly to rooted traditions, is more jealous of any infringement on liberty, or is more opposed to any change for the mere sake of novelty; yet no people has a stronger grasp on the realities of life or is capable of going so fast or so far when the signal moment has arrived."

"That moment is rapidly approaching; the war has stirred the British people to its depths; it has evoked a new vision of constructive possibilities; it has revealed essential defects in the structure of society; it has given democracy a consciousness of power. Political democracy will have no patience with any party or leader that seeks to serve the interests or preserve the privileges of a class against the common interests of all."

"The new constitution leaves the Labor Party solidly based upon the organized working class movement. From the trade unions which are the mainstay of the party—the bankers, in fact—neither their right of representation nor their voting power can be taken away. The party does not abandon its original basis as a federation of societies—trade unions, socialists' societies, women's organizations, trades councils, co-operative societies."

"Becoming a national party we broaden the definition of the word 'Labor' to make it include all who produce, whether by hand or brain, as distinguished from the classes that live on rent or interest, without making any productive effort to add to the wealth of the community."

Others Co-operate
Henderson said this appeal to others than trade union members had met with a wide response throughout the country. Young men of education and training in great numbers have indicated that they find this opening to political effort attractive.

"What part do you think the new Labor Party will be able to play in case of an election this spring?" Henderson was asked.

"With us," he said, "it is not a matter of winning the next election. I know there is a certain expectation that Mr. Lloyd George will bring a general election on the people at the first seemingly favorable opportunity, notwithstanding the objections he once eloquently voiced to the principle of a 'khaki election.' An election on a state register or even a new register during the war should only be held if inevitable."

"We shall be organized and, no doubt, able to place three or four hundred candidates in the field whenever the election takes place. The country is alive. Old habits of thought are in the discard. Young and enthusiastic candidates of education and experience will enlist with use to assist our Trade Union and working class Socialist Parliamentarians. The new National Labor Party will exert a national influence, and whatever may be the result of a general election, whether it comes soon or late, there is little doubt that the Labor Party will play a very prominent part in future political events. The new party will be a People's Party and as such will be the party of the future in National Inter-Dominion and International Politics."

MEET TO PLAN NEXT LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Santa Ana Committee Is to Hold Gathering at 8 a. m. Friday

The Santa Ana Liberty Loan committee is to hold a meeting at 8 o'clock Friday morning for the purpose of making preliminary plans for the carrying through of the campaign for the third Liberty loan. The meeting is to be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

"The purpose of this meeting," said R. L. Bisby, "is to discuss the situation and determine whether or not there is anything that should be done at this time or at any time before the opening of the campaign. I understand that the third Liberty loan drive is to occur some time between February 15 and March 1."

agree that it could not be passed over the veto.

The vote tomorrow on committee references is expected to be a test practically determining the bill's fate. Ignoring the President's expressed disapproval of the military investigation, Chamberlain called Surgeon General Gorgas and from his testimony he expects to gather fresh evidence of the need for better organization.

Refutes Baker's Charge
Commenting today on the President's charge that the military inquiry had called from their duties officials engaged in vital tasks, Chamberlain pointed out that General Crozier and General Sharpe both had been relieved of their bureau jobs before testifying and had become members of the departmental council. Secretary Baker was the only one called away from his duties, Chamberlain said, and Baker lost comparatively little time.

Chamberlain is preparing to bring in his universal military training bill, which he discussed yesterday with Col. Roosevelt.

Republicans and Democrats in both houses will caucus today to consider their answer on the Chamberlain bills.

Colonel Roosevelt has thrown the full weight of his influence into the fight, conferring until late last night with the Republican leaders in both branches.

ACTION IS NEEDED TO RELIEVE FREIGHT TRAFFIC

The railroad administration is waiting for an expression from the committee. If the demand is insistent, Director General McAdoo may take drastic steps immediately to pull the railway system out from under the mass weight of piled up freight.

Addition of 200 locomotives from the Balkan shop, within thirty days will help the situation, the railroad administration declares.

These locomotives were built for European service, but cannot be shipped now because lack of tonnage prevents.

UNIFORMED GERMAN OFFICERS IN RUSSIAN CAPITAL, REPORTED

TOKIO, Jan. 23.—German army officers, in full uniform, were walking about the streets of Petrograd openly on December 18, when he left Petrograd, George Jones, vice president of the Standard Commercial Tobacco Company, declared when he reached Yokohama. He said most of the German shops, closed since the beginning of the war, had reopened.

WOMAN AMPUTATES ARM IN EMERGENCY

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 23.—Mrs. J. B. Clarkson of Harding county was forced to amputate the arm of her little daughter, or allow the child to suffer with her arm crushed in some machinery. With the implement at hand she cut the suffering child loose and, hurriedly getting a team ready, took her to the nearest physician.

LEIPSIGS WILL ADD 1100 FEET FLOOR SPACE TO STORE

Rapid Growth of Business Has Necessitated Enlargement of All Departments

Opening here only fifteen months ago, Leipsic has developed a business that has already required enlargement of the big store room occupied on North Sycamore street.

Workmen today are engaged in building operations that will add 1100 feet of floor space to the room, and will make it possible for the management to enlarge its various departments to meet the demands of its increasing clientele.

The addition is being built at the rear of the store and will be a brick, one story high, and basement.

The ready-to-wear department, which has made phenomenal growth, will occupy the most of the increased space. Other departments in the store will be changed to some extent to give each added room for enlargement of stocks.

One of the big features in the change to be made in the store room will be the added light facilities, and which will make the place truly a day-light store.

The back and sides of the addition will be of glass. The front show windows will be extended around the corner at the alley. Wooden partitions, now forming the back to the display windows, will be removed and glass used in their stead. This change, with the glass walls in the addition, will result in flooding the big store-room with light. This improvement will make it possible to better display goods, and will prove an added feature that will be fully appreciated by patrons.

"I demonstrated my faith in the future of Santa Ana when I came here a year ago last November to engage in business," said H. Leipsic, this morning, "and the fact that I have found it necessary to have more room to meet the demands of my growing patronage is evidence that my confidence was not misplaced. The growth of the business has been beyond my anticipation, and I certainly appreciate the confidence and the patronage of the people of the community."

616 LESS NEWSPAPERS IS RECORD FOR 1917

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—N. W. Ayer and Company's American newspaper annual for 1918, chronicles the gains and losses in number of American newspapers for the year 1917, showing that 500 new publications started but 1200 suspended or consolidated, net decrease being 616, of which sixty-two were daily newspapers.

Conditions brought about by the war are working havoc in the newspaper field, with the suspension of daily newspapers in cities as large as Boston, Cleveland and Montreal. The shortage of print paper and its consequent increase in cost, and the increases in labor and materials are proving to be much more than the average newspaper can adjust itself to.

SEEKS MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL IN THIS COUNTRY

Who is the most beautiful young woman in Orange county? The Eighth National Orange Show, to be held at San Bernardino, February 20 to 28, wants to know. And a mysterious committee, the identity of which will never be revealed, will soon visit Orange county to seek out the most beautiful of its daughters.

In a bloodless revolution the royal queen of the Orange Show was deposed, because America is fighting to make the world safe for democracy. The allies' court was decided upon. Its members will be the talented and most beautiful daughters of the citrus fruit communities of Southern California. The young women are to be selected with exactness, for they are to be the center of the social affairs and fetes of the Orange Show. They will be entertained by San Bernardino's most prominent families.

The committee in charge of the selection has asked the Santa Ana Register to aid in the difficult decision. Oh, no, this newspaper will not accept the responsibility of determining which of all Orange county's beautiful daughters is the most beautiful, the most talented. The names submitted to the Register by friends of those proposed will be turned over to the mysterious committee from the Orange Show. Proposals should be made at once if it is not a contest and there are none of the details of an election. The committee wants a prominent, popular, beautiful and accomplished young lady, and if Orange county is to be in the front rank at the Orange Show, it must have the most pleasing young lady of Southern California, who will be crowned in the flag and colors of one of the nation's allies.

Orange county people should hurry in their suggestions. The time is short.

CITRUS CROP IN COUNTY BEST IN STATE

Congratulates This District on Condition of Orange Crop This Season

ORANGE, Jan. 23.—J. L. Matthews, editor of the Covina Argus, is in Orange for a brief visit to study citrus crop conditions. He has just completed an investigation of every citrus district in the state and does not hesitate to state that this locality is especially favored this season.

"Orange is to be congratulated on the conditions of its orange crop," he stated. "Conditions here are better than anywhere else in the state. Whittier, Fullerton and Orange I have found to be the three best districts. Ontario has very little fruit and Riverside practically nothing. There will probably not be more than 120 cars of navel in the entire Ontario district."

Besides being an authority on citrus culture, Mr. Matthews is the dean of Los Angeles county newspaper editors. He has edited the same paper longer than any other in that county, having been with the Covina Argus since 1894.

DRYS OF ORANGE COUNTY FAVOR SUBMITTING DRY AMENDMENT; ALSO FIGHT FOR LEGISLATURE

STATE CONVENTION WILL BE SCENE OF FIGHT ON PROGRAM

Rev. Peck and Dr. Gandier Differ on Advisability of State Measure

When the California Dry Federation meets at Fresno on February 5 to outline a plan of campaign for 1918 a royal battle is to take place.

Something of the rumblings of that battle were heard at the convention of the Orange County Dry Federation yesterday at the First Methodist Church in Santa Ana. At the convention here resolutions were passed favoring a fight for a dry legislature and favoring the submission of a dry amendment. Shall a dry amendment be submitted to the people of California this year? That is the question to be decided at Fresno.

Dr. Gandier, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, declares that all efforts of the d. r. forces should be centered upon the election of a dry governor, a dry lieutenant governor and a dry legislature that California may at the earliest possible moment ratify the federal amendment for a dry United States. He is opposed to submitting a dry amendment because he believes an amendment would weaken the fight for the legislature.

For Amendment Dr. H. W. Peck, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, a member of the Committee of Fifty of the California Dry Federation, declared at the convention here yesterday that he would go to Fresno and make a determined fight for the submission of a dry amendment. He said that the submission of such an amendment is necessary in order to secure the support of the Prohibition Party and of the W. C. T. U. to whatever other program may be decided upon at the state convention at Fresno.

Yesterday's convention was presided over by Judge W. H. Thomas. S. R. Coate of Anaheim was secretary. The convention was primarily for the election of nineteen delegates to the Fresno convention. A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. W. E. Ward, Santa Ana; Rev. Kitzmiller, Villa Park; Mrs. Carrie Ford, Fullerton; Gibbs, Anaheim, and Ed Chaffee, Garden Grove, was appointed, and that committee's selections for delegates and alternates was approved by the convention. A committee on ways and means is to be appointed by the chairman for the purpose of raising some money to meet a part of the expenses of the delegates.

Question at Issue The election took but a small part of the time of the convention.

Early in the afternoon Rev. H. W. Peck presented a motion in favor of the pledging of the convention to support only such county and state candidates as will pledge themselves to the dry cause, and expressing the opinion of the convention that a state dry amendment should be submitted this year.

Rev. A. T. O'Rear presented an amendment, reading as follows: "Resolved, that it is the sense

NINETEEN DELEGATES TO STATE CONVENTION FOR COUNTY SELECTED

Delegates elected by the Orange Dry Federation to go to the State Dry Federation convention at Fresno on February 5 follow:

Delegates—Mrs. L. C. Yeoman, S. C. Hartranft, Chas. Eggabroad, S. R. Coate, Anaheim; Ray Billingsley, Villa Park; C. A. Miller, Rev. J. G. Kennedy, N. H. Leonard, W. H. Thomas, Rev. A. T. O'Rear, Santa Ana; Rev. O. W. Reinus, Garden Grove; L. P. Drake, Fullerton; Mrs. Flora Cox, Cypress; O. W. Harris, Placentia; Rev. W. E. Spicer, Brea; Mrs. Sarah Brown, Tustin; O. W. Hull, Orange; L. B. Steward, Orange; Rev. J. A. Andrews, Huntington Beach.

of this convention that our state program for 1918 be first the election of representatives to the state legislature who will vote for the ratification of the amendment to the constitution of the United States prohibiting the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages."

The amendment carried, and after that the original motion carried without a dissenting vote, the effect of the amendment being to pledge the concentration first to a program for an election of state legislators. In other words, the expression was a recognition of the nationwide prohibition amendment as of chief importance for the 1918 campaign.

The Rominger Bill "The Rominger bill is on the ballot anyway, whether the temperance forces want it or not," said Rev. Peck. "It is not a prohibition measure except as to saloons, and in that respect is good, but it allows the use of beers and fortified wines at cafes and restaurants. It is in the interest of the wineries and wine interests and its undeniable effect would be to make the use of wines and beers at meals in cafes and restaurants a common thing. Many young men and women would acquire the liquor taste and their liquor habit in that way. Under that measure, should it carry, the saloons will be closed, but the cafes and restaurants will be allowed to remain open for the sale of certain liquors with meals. While it limits sales to liquors of not over fourteen per cent alcohol with meals, and in bottles twenty-one per cent, one-fifth pure alcohol, it certainly is not sufficient safeguard. Most drinking starts with light wines and beers. Cafes would be more of a menace than ever to both boys and girls. I am not at all satisfied with the Rominger bill, and I believe we should submit a real, dry amendment this fall. We ought to do it in order to cement the support of the Prohibition Party and W. C. T. U. There will be a big effort made at the state convention to shelve any dry amendment."

Different Viewpoints Rev. J. A. Stevenson arrived at the convention yesterday after the motion in favor of a state dry amendment had been passed. When he did arrive and learned of the action of the convention he explained the situation as he sees it.

"I have been told by Dr. Gandier, who is the best authority I know of upon state campaign conditions, that it would be unwise to attempt to force through a dry amendment this year," said Rev. Stevenson. "I think a great deal of his judgment, and it is his judgment that the submission of a dry amendment would damage the central fight which is to be made for a state administration that will support the national amendment. California should get into line as quickly as possible as one of the states endorsing the nationwide prohibition amendment."

Rev. Peck said he felt sure Dr. Gandier was mistaken. Whether or not the state convention should be informed of the action of the Orange County convention was then discussed, and action in favor of giving that information officially to the state convention was taken. The secretary was instructed to notify the state convention secretary.

Are Not Instructed However, in the discussion it became quite evident that a number of the delegates who were elected did not care to go to the state convention if they were to be bound down by instructions from the county convention. Speakers said that while the sentiment of the convention had been expressed, the resolutions were not in the nature of an instruction. "Upon that point, let me see if I state the position of this convention," said Judge Thomas in closing. "These delegates are to go to Fresno with authority to use their best judgment, should discussions and conditions arise there that seem to them to change the situation. They are not going pledged to the action of this convention."

To that statement none demurred. During the convention A. A. Mills presented a resolution in which the convention urged President Wilson to exert the authority given him by Congress to prohibit the manufacture of wines and beers upon the ground that by so doing he could conserve fuel, food, sugar, transportation and manpower. This resolution was carried.

Resolutions Passed Later the following resolutions were presented by Rev. Stevenson, seconded by Rev. Peck, and were adopted:

Resolved, that we, the united temperance forces of Orange County, in convention assembled, this 22nd day of January, 1918, express our appreciation of General Pershing's efforts to protect our boys in France and respectfully request and urge President Wilson and the Congress of the United States by legislative and diplomatic action to take all steps necessary to prevent the sale or service of alcoholic drinks to our soldiers and sailors when outside the territorial limits of the United States.

Resolved, that because making and selling alcoholic liquors uses fuel, food, transportation facilities and man power, and drinking liquors seriously interferes with the available supply of all these things which are so essential to a successful prosecution of the war; Therefore, we respectfully urge President Wilson and the Congress of the United States to give us immediate prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic liquors as an emergency war measure.

In an address, Judge Thomas urged that the d. r. forces of Orange County do not make the mistake of dividing their strength.

SELF DEFENSE

DEFEAT BACKACHE AND KIDNEY TROUBLE WITH ANURIC.

Many people in this section have suffered from rheumatism and kidney trouble and have found Anuric to be the most successful remedy to overcome these painful and dangerous ailments.

The lucky people are those who have suffered, but who are now well because they heeded Nature's warning signal in time to correct their trouble with that wonderful new discovery of Dr. Pierce's called An-u-ric. You should promptly heed these warnings, some of which are dizzy spells, backache, irregularity of the urine or the painful twinges of rheumatism, sciatica or lumbago. To delay may make possible the dangerous forms of kidney disease, such as Bright's disease, diabetes or stone in the bladder.

To overcome these distressing conditions you should take plenty of exercise in the open air, avoid a heavy meat diet, drink freely of water and at each meal take Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets (double strength). You will, in a short time, find that you are one of the firm indorsees of An-u-ric, as are many of your neighbors.

Send Dr. V. M. Pierce, of the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for trial package.

PORTLAND, OREGON.—"Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets gave me great relief after eight years of suffering with kidney trouble and dropsy of limbs and feet; Anuric is certainly good."—Mrs. J. Caswell, 447 Stephens Street.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the original Little Liver Pills. One little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Sold by druggists for nearly 30 years.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—"I have for years used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for stomach and bowel trouble. We keep them in the house all the time. I am certain they save many doctor bills when taken promptly for constipation."—Mrs. L. Anderson, 24 Johnston Avenue.

LET THE CRAPE-HANGERS GO HANG

Well, suppose everything were as bad as the most pessimistic critics say it is. Suppose the obstacles are well nigh insuperable, and suppose our most promising efforts to surmount them have bungled.

The very worst thing to do about it is to get into a Slough of Despond. And it's the most un-American thing we could do.

If this nation has been characterized in history by one trait more than any other, it has been the trait of triumphing over obstacles by the application of brains, energy and will. The greater the obstacles, the better we have always risen to them.

If the situation were really hopeless, the American thing to do would be to buck up and smash through to success.

But as a matter of fact, nothing is so bad as the crape-hangers would have us believe. And every case of muddling and delay can be matched by one of efficiency and promptness. Altogether, this nation has been, since we entered the war, far greater progress than any other belligerent has made in the same length of time. And we are just getting our stride.

Many of the troubles most complained of today are melting away even while the gloomers croak. Honest criticism is having its effect. Weak spots are being strengthened. Governmental and industrial organizations are getting down to brass tacks. The whole complex machinery is beginning to move. It still creaks, but the wheels are turning.

Anybody who cannot see this is blind.

Let's have less snarling, and more appreciation of the fine things that public men and business men and soldiers and civilians are doing. Let's have less negation and more positive thought. If we once get the idea thoroughly into our heads that this nation of 100,000,000 people is a mighty war machine already under way, with a mighty rumble and roar, functioning better every minute, and if every human cog does his part and bears his strain instead of grumbling at the other cogs, we'll soon be grinding out Victory.

A GOOD JOB

It is pleasing to learn, from Fuel Administrator Garfield's statement, that the five days' suspension of industrial activity east of the Mississippi has enabled the government to clear forty ships that were held in port for want of coal. But a more important result of the shut-down is that it has brought home to the country, as nothing had done previously, the fact that the United States is engaged in a big, hard war.

We have all known this, in a way. But most of us have had a sort of idea that we could proceed with everything about as usual, that the war was something apart from us which would go on of its own accord in a mechanical way to an ultimate victory.

The war will not go on of its own accord. Everybody has got to jump in and help. Everybody has got to recognize the facts. Everybody has got to work and save and feel and suffer. And the more keenly we feel the situation now, the more clearly we see the facts now, the harder we work now, the more frugally we live now, the more we suffer now, the less we shall have to pay later, and the smaller will be the total toll.

We did not want this practical moral lesson administered. We do not like it. But it makes us all realize what the nation is up against in the economic side of war-making, and realize a little of what the allies have long been enduring, it will be very good for us. And this moral benefit is in addition to the practical advantages promised.

PUBLIC DIPLOMACY

One of the most significant things in President Wilson's statement of American peace terms was his flat repudiation of secret diplomacy.

He praised the Russian representatives for the "spirit of modern democracy" they showed in demanding that their conferences with the German statesmen at Brest-Litovsk should be held, contrary to custom, with the doors open, with all the world for an audience. He condemned the German government for its "secrecy of counsel" and "lack of fearless frankness," its "failure to make definite statement of the objects of the war." Then he committed the United States unreservedly to the principle of open, public diplomacy, now and hereafter.

"It will be our wish and purpose," he said, "that the processes of peace, when they are begun, shall be absolutely open, and that they shall involve and permit henceforth no secret understandings of any kind. The day of conquest and aggrandizement has gone by; so also has the day of secret covenants entered into in the interest of particular governments and likely at some unlooked-for moment to upset the peace of the world."

5 YOUTHFUL SLAYERS WHO TERRORIZED L. A. ARE ARMY DESERTERS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—The five highwaymen who terrorized Los Angeles Monday night, killed one man, shot another and robbed a dozen persons, are in jail, according to the police.

All of them, the police say, have confessed. The men in jail are all deserters from Camp Kearny, at Linda Vista. They are:

C. H. Hadley, William R. Dunn, Harold D. Spears, Harold B. Denman and Richard Riley.

To Chief of Police John L. Butler and Capt. George K. Home of the detective division the youths are alleged to have confessed the slaying of Philip J. Metz, the grocer, who was shot to death when he resisted the bandits, and to have added a blanket confession to a dozen highway robberies and to have spoken of "getting men" as one might speak of rabbit shooting.

Denman, Hadley and Dunn were arrested in a bungalow at 705 West Forty-first drive by Patrolman E. L. Oker, who captured them single handed, took two guns from each of them, and took them to the University police station.

Spears was arrested in the Southern Pacific yard by Detectives O'Brien, Kirby and Carroll as he swung aboard an outgoing freight.

BEACH CITY EMPLOYEES MAY GO TO SHIPYARDS

LONG BEACH, Jan. 23.—Unable to compete with the shipbuilding companies in the payment of high wages, the city is threatened with a general walkout of its employees. Mayor T. Lisenby yesterday told the city commissioners that only old men and incompetents will be left in the municipal employ unless better wages are provided. Mayor Lisenby asserted that the municipal employees are entitled to an income permitting them to "live like human beings." The commissioners today called a conference for tomorrow.

'BONE DRY' KENTUCKY FIGHT ON IN EARNEST

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 23.—The fight to make Kentucky "bone dry" is on in earnest. The Senate yesterday by a vote of 28 to 6 passed the state-wide prohibition amendment to the constitution and the lower House probably will take similar action today. Should the amendment be referred by a vote of the people in November, Kentucky will be dry after June 30, 1920.

AMERICAN ARMY TO USE METRIC SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Adoption of the metric system of measurement for artillery and machine guns and maps for the American overseas forces was announced by the War Department. The change was agreed upon at the suggestion of the French Government, to avoid confusion in France, where the metric system is used exclusively.

Bud Flivver's Observations

 She went down—To the river—To get some soft water —To wash some woollens—And things—
 And pretty soon—She let out a screech—That brought out—All the neighbors—And I went—With them—
 And she was—Sitting there—On the river bank—Sobbing and crying—And talking—In a muddle—
 And she said—It got away from her—And she was afraid—It was lost forever—And what would she do—
 And we thought then—Her kid had—Fallen in the river—And we began—To sympathize with her—And tried to—Quiet her—
 And we told her—We would—Hunt for it—And bring it—Back to her—
 And she said—It went over the falls—And would be—Dashed to pieces—And would never—Be restored to her—
 And she said—It was given—To her—By her mother—Back in Michigan—
 And we knew then—It was not—Her little boy—And we thought—It was a cat—Or a dog—And we told her—She could get another one—
 And some of the men—Said an animal—Could go over the falls—Without getting killed—And they waded in—And began to hunt—
 And she said—It had been—In the family—Over twenty years—And I told the men—It was no use—To search—It was old enough—To die anyhow—
 And between sobs—She said—It had got scaly—And was cracked—At the edge—But she thought—The world of it—
 And I knew—Cats and dogs sometimes—Got mangy and scaly—But I never saw one—That had got cracked—
 And I asked her—How did it happen—To get lost—In the river—
 And she said—It slipped out—Of her hand—When she was—Using it—And floated away—
 And I told her—To stop sniveling—And brace up—And tell us—What was it—She had lost—
 And she wiped her eyes—With the bottom—Of her gingham apron—And said—It was a gourd dipper—My dear mother gave me—
 Slowly we slunk away—In painful silence—And left her—Sitting there—On the cold river bank—By Bud.

Southern Counties Gas Co. States Its Position as to Proposed Increased Rates

During the year past many of the largest public utility companies in the state of California have applied to the State Railroad Commission for an adjustment of their rates. In most instances the necessity for a re-adjustment of rates was due to increased cost of labor and materials, resulting from war-time conditions.

The Southern Counties Gas Company is one of the last of the larger utility companies in the state to ask the State Railroad Commission for a revision of its rates. The position of the Southern Counties Gas Company is stated by LeRoy M. Edwards, an Orange county boy, by the way—of the firm of Hunsaker, Britt & LeRoy M. Edwards, attorneys for the company, as follows:

"The Southern Counties Gas Company is a consolidation of several independent gas companies formerly supplying some forty odd cities in Southern California. On several occasions complaints have been made by one city that it was being discriminated against in favor of other cities enjoying a different gas rate, and the gas company has been considering for some time placing before the State Railroad Commission the question of rates so as to eliminate any apparent discrimination as between the rates charged in various towns.

"The introduction of natural gas was a great experiment, and it was impossible for the company to determine in advance just what rates should be established in the different cities. The rates existing in certain of the cities have been inquired into by the State Railroad Commission and satisfactory rates have been established. In other cities, however, the rates which have been in effect have been found inadequate and in some parts of its system the gas company is earning less than four per cent upon its investment without any allowance for depreciation.

"Because of the foregoing conditions the gas company now deems it desirable to submit the entire matter to the State Railroad Commission in order that the rates may be adjusted so as to be fair as between all of the cities, and of such character as will enable the gas company to enjoy a reasonable rate of return such as is allowed to other utilities in the State of California."

WOMAN DEAD AS KIDDIES SWELL MAN SLASHES HER THROAT FUND INVESTED IN WAR STAMPS

Fiend Then Turns Razor on Self and Is Dying From Mortal Injury

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Mrs. Laura Scoble, cashier in a theatre, was murdered early today in the Hotel Alda, Eddy and Mason streets, by Theodore Johns, a waiter.

Johns then slashed his own throat. He is dying at Central emergency hospital.

The crime was committed in a most spectacular manner. That it had been carefully planned for several days was shown by a death note Johns wrote last Saturday. In a series of remarkable "death notes," Johns pictured the woman as a vampire who for ten years had preyed upon him.

Last night he took a room for the night at the Alda. He brought with him a razor and revolver.

Mrs. Scoble, a divorcee with a child, met him in the room.

She went to the bathroom to arrange her hair, when Johns entered, a drawn razor in one hand, a revolver in the other. He slashed the woman's throat.

As she rushed from the room screaming, she brushed the telephone receiver from the hook and shouted for help.

A second later the night clerk over the telephone heard the revolver reports coming from the room. He rushed to the room and as he ran along the hallway stumbled over the body of Mrs. Scoble. Three bullets had entered her back.

In the room hotel employees found Johns, kneeling beside the bed as if in prayer. Blood was streaming from a gash in his throat. One hand simply clutched a razor while with the other he was mechanically pulling the trigger of an empty gun.

For many days the woman had feared death. She had planned to leave shortly for the east. Only a few nights ago she called a friend from a theatre and was heard to say, "he says he'll kill me, the crazy fool."

Report From Schools Today Shows Steady Growth Made By Children

"I have bought seventeen thrift stamps, already," one little girl was heard to exclaim to a companion on her way to school this morning.

"Aw, have you? Where did you get the money to do it?" was the immediate question.

"Gee, I fixed that all right. I busted my pig."

So the money is rolling in to help Uncle Sam win the war. And the kiddies are doing their part to aid the Government. Small savings banks are being "busted" and the money goes for stamps. Rather than dimming the novelty wears off, the interest in Thrift stamps seems to be steadily growing.

The total invested in these little kaiser slaying bullets by the children of the grammar schools of Santa Ana now reaches the amount of $1179.05. The sales this morning, however, were $261.05. This shows that there is a steady growth in the sums that the school youngsters are bringing in to deposit for Thrift stamps. The matter is being kept continually before the children not only in the schools, but in the Sunday schools, churches, the newspapers and in the homes.

The children are being urged to use their savings for this cause.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

CONTRACT WITH BARNARD UPON HARBOR PLAN

Recommendation of Commission Is Accepted By the County Board

Yesterday afternoon the Board of Supervisors authorized the acceptance of a contract with Engineers Leeds & Barnard of Los Angeles for making detailed plans and specifications for Newport harbor. The contract to be entered into is one recommended by the County Harbor Commission. The work is to be done by Barnard. He is to be paid $300 a month for four months. If the $500,000 harbor bonds carry he is to be employed for twenty months as supervising engineer at $300 a month, his services to start with the sale of the bonds.

Under Advisement

The taking of testimony relative to the population of incorporated cities of Orange county was completed yesterday afternoon by the Board of Supervisors, and the question of the distribution of money collected as motor vehicle fines by city recorders was taken under advisement pending the completion of a transcript of the evidence by the reporter who took the testimony in shorthand.

Money for Show

In accordance with its promise made several weeks ago, the board ordered $500 appropriated for the National Orange Show exhibit at San Bernardino. The warrant is made payable to A. S. Bradford, chairman of the committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce having the exhibit in charge.

Job Is Accepted

The job of re-surfacing on the Buena Park road, done under contract, was officially accepted.

The board adjourned to Feb. 1.

AGREE SETTLE CASE WITHOUT A JURY TRIAL

R. B. Hoxsie Gets $800 and Right to Move Away His Buildings

With an agreement for settlement outside of court, the action of the Pacific Electric to condemn a strip of land across property near the S. P. south of First street did not go to trial before Judge Thomas this morning. R. B. Hoxsie was the defendant. Attorney Eden, representing Hoxsie, reported to the court that the railway and his client had reached an agreement.

Hoxsie is to get $800 cash and is to have the right of moving his buildings off the property. For buildings and strip he had asked $4200.

For Foreclosure

Suit to foreclose a $7,000 mortgage, with $496 interest due, has been brought by the Orange County Trust & Savings Bank against Leora P. May. Ranch property is concerned. Clyde Bishop is attorney for the plaintiff.

Are Excused

This morning Judge Thomas excused six men of the new panel from jury service for the term. They are: G. H. Randall, M. F. Dotig, J. H. Maley, J. V. Sutton, P. A. Schumacher, J. H. Birch and Wm. Jeffrey. L. A. Cock was excused for two months.

COLLEGE BOYS BEGIN RAISING OF CHICKENS

LAWRENCE, Kan., Jan. 23.—To aid in the war the Phi Kappa Psi of Kansas University has undertaken the task of raising chickens. Some time ago a farmer advertised young chickens for sale. The fraternity bought the entire stock, some twenty-seven little chicks. They took them to their fraternity house and prepared a place for them.

Now every morning and evening the men have an added chore, that of looking after the little chicks. However, bright visions of future chicken dinners are urging them to keep up their tasks.

PAST MATRONS GATHER

Mrs. A. M. Brock Hostess at South Main Home, Knit For Red Cross

Mrs. A. M. Brock entertained the members of the Past Matrons' Association, O. E. S., in a charming manner at her cozy home at 715 South Main street yesterday afternoon. Bright poinsettias, spray carnations and fragrant roses, all in the same rich shade of red, were used in decorating and the hostess was assisted in receiving and entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Benedict. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in social intercourse, while the ladies were busy with their knitting and other Red Cross work.

Mrs. Brock is a Past Matron of Central Chapter, No. 235, of Centralia, Kansas, having served that chapter as Worthy Matron in 1909.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon, small tables being utilized for that purpose. The red and white color scheme was used throughout the dainty menu, each serving of ice cream showing a brilliant red star in the center.

Those present besides the hostess and her daughter were Miss Pauline Reinhaus and Mrs. George Balderton, W. D. Barker, William Clayton, D. W. Crawford, C. S. Dunphy, Ada B. Henery, H. C. Kellogg, J. R. Medlock, J. G. Mitchell, A. H. Pease, Max Reinhaus, W. H. Thomas, P. L. Tople, W. L. Tabbs, T. A. Winbiger, F. L. Wordean.

"Joint Owners in Spain"

Residents of Santa Ana, at various times, have had reason to be proud of the histrionic ability displayed by the students of the high school under the efficient direction of Ernest Crozier Phillips and can anticipate with pleasure the treat in store when "Joint Owners in Spain" is presented at the high school assembly hall, Friday evening of this week. Although the cause for which the play is given (the fatherless children of France) makes us heavy-hearted, the play is a most delightful comedy.

The scene is laid in an old lady's home where two old ladies, by their eternal troubles, make life highly exciting for the other inmates. The characters will be played by Helen Walker, Deanna Taylor, Orpha Holbrook and Gracia Sharp.

In addition to this amusing sketch a group of artists will give of their best talents. These include Mr. Gustlin, Mrs. Holmes Bishop, Miss Fagge, Miss Ely's glee club and Mr. Garstang's orchestra.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

Santa Ana Union Has Good Program Including De-lightful Quartet Music

The Santa Ana W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the rest room at the city hall.

Mrs. A. Beals conducted an appropriate devotional service, and Mrs. E. L. Morrison presented an interesting program, the most pleasing feature of which was the excellent music given by the ladies' quartet composed of Misses Sammis, Ludwig, Post and Chapman.

Fortunately the business was concluded early enough to allow those in attendance to adjourn to the First M. E. church, where the dry convention was in session.

The next meeting will be the Willard Memorial meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. T. A. Winbiger, 207 East Ninth street.

Pleasant Afternoon Meeting

Mrs. Mary Holbrook delightfully entertained the Daughters of Veterans at her pleasant home, 303 Orange avenue, Monday afternoon.

While fingers were busy hemming napkins and knitting for the Red Cross, plans were outlined for the coming year's work. New suggestions were made, among which it was decided to renew the monthly afternoon teas, the next one to be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Maurice Phillips, 1414 East Fourth street, the date to be announced later.

At the close of the afternoon's work, Mrs. Holbrook, assisted by Mrs. E. A. Bell, served chocolate, dainty wafers and mints.

Washington P.-T. A. Meeting

The Washington P.-T. A. will hold its monthly meeting Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Promptly at this time the school will have its regular physical training exercises on the grounds and parents and friends interested in the statewide movement to give our children better bodies may have an opportunity to see how the work is being done in our local schools.

The indoor program will begin at 3 o'clock, and will be both entertaining and instructive. Parents are invited to bring any question or suggestion that concern the welfare of the school.

The Thrift Stamp campaign is an important feature of school work just now as a means of teaching children habits of saving and a sense of the proper value and use of money. The campaign will be fully discussed and it is hoped that hearty co-operation between home and school may be secured for this most valuable lesson in patriotism that our children have yet had.

The meeting will close promptly at 4 o'clock.

What to Do When

Backache Comes On

"Foley Kidney Pills have done me more good than $100.00 worth of other medicine," Chas. N. Fox, Hiram, N. Y.

When backache comes on and it seems as if you can't stand the pain and pressure across the small of your back, hurry to your drugstore and get relief through a box of Foley Kidney Pills. They will stop the cause of this pain very quickly, spur the sluggish kidneys to regular action, enable them to throw the poisons out of the blood. They will get rid of pain and rheumatism for you, quiet your nerves, stop your backache, and limber up your stiff joints and sore muscles.

Frank W. Sherman, Lacombe, N. Y., writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble, had a tired feeling in my back, did not have any ambition and felt all tired out. I used Foley Kidney Pills and in a few days began to feel better, and now I have entirely recovered."

FOR CHILD WELFARE

Mrs. J. H. Leebrick, Charities Secretary, Calls Committee For Publicity

Mrs. J. H. Leebrick, secretary for the Associated Charities, is very much interested in child welfare and recently a station has been established at the Charities office, 111 East Third street, opposite the city hall, where a free clinic is held every Thursday, from 1 to 2 p. m. where children can be taken, examined and their defects and diseases given free attention by physicians of the city, whom Mrs. Leebrick has interested in the important work. A nurse from the Santa Ana Hospital is also in attendance, her services also being donated.

Mrs. Leebrick wishes to get the work directly to the attention of those interested and especially the Mexican parents of the city, who are sorely lacking in their knowledge of how to care for their babies.

Various means were yesterday considered by the publicity committee for placing the matter before the public. Various pamphlets will be printed in Spanish, posters will be put in store windows, films will be secured and moving picture managers will be asked to throw these on their screens at stated intervals, a house-to-house canvass will be made to present the matter in Spanish to parents and a census taken of the houses where there are small children, newspapers will be asked to give publicity to the important work and physicians and others will be provided with cards giving the address of the office where the clinic will be held. As the work grows separate days will probably be set for the Mexicans and Americans.

It was decided that children from the nearby suburbs will also be cared for if they are brought to the station. This will include Delhi, Tusin, Talbert and such nearby places not incorporated cities.

Besides Mrs. Leebrick, the committee consists of Rev. Fr. H. Eummelen, Rev. Mendoza, Mrs. W. L. Grubb, Miss Zelmia Sturgeon and Mrs. Olive Lopez. A committee of ten will be appointed to canvass the Mexican homes, those speaking Spanish being selected, while Mrs. Grubb and Miss Sturgeon will look after the children of Americans and other nationalities whose children need attention.

The publicity committee will meet again in two weeks when the canvassers will be given districts in which to work.

Celebrates Eighth Birthday

Little Miss Doris Goff happily celebrated her eighth birthday on Monday, a number of little friends and playmates being invited guests to her home on West Eighteenth street.

All kinds of lively games furnished amusement and in one clever contest, Alma Rudnick captured first prize, the consolation going to Sara Couze.

When invited to the birthday spread, the children found the pretty table lighted by the glow of eight pink tapers which trimmed the beautiful birthday cake, served with ice cream and delicious candies.

Among those who joined in the joyous good time were Misses Helen Heil, Eleanor Crookshank, Wilma Hoy, Hazel Pennington, Helen Boy, Alma and Beata Rudnick, Mabel Robertson, Sara Couze, Gertrude Morse, Doris Viva and Irah Lee Goff.

Chat 'n' Seau Club

Miss Artie Cravath of Minter street, was hostess at Monday night's pleasant meeting of the Chat 'n' Seau Club, being graciously assisted by her sister, Miss Muriel Cravath.

The living rooms were bright with velvety poinsettias and sweet-scented violets, and the evening hours sped swiftly away with lively music to the accompanying click of knitting needles.

A large gold basket centered the dining table and was filled with delicate pink sweet peas and waxen hyacinths. Refreshments were carried out in pink and white. All the members were present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harvey Gardner.

Those participating Monday night were Misses Leonard Harvey, Harvey Gardner and Luie Butterfield; Misses Alice Huntington, Emily Lykke, Hat-

LONESOME TIME AHEAD AS BALL TEAMS PLAN TRAINING

Ranks Sadly Depleted By War But Plenty Left Yet to Assure Good Games

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The wild call of spring is about to send the athletes hieing southward. And the hieing this year is going to be considerably more afflicted with lonesomeness than any other time within the memory of major leaguers and other spangled favorites of the populace.
The faces present, as a matter of fact, will look like a new layout for many of the upper baseball class. A glance into the army and navy would locate many of those present.
The pennant hunt in the 1918 season appears from a long distance glance to be just as much of a guess as it was a year ago. Transfers that have been made during the winter, while benefitting some clubs, and laying injury on others, nevertheless, leaves a balance in both big leagues that should make the dash, from barrier to the finish, a hot one.
In the minds of most fans, of course, there will be a spark of favoritism for the White Sox in the American league and for the Giants in the National league. Just as in pugilism, baseball is prone to string along with the old champion until the sawdust has been kicked out of its doll.

But—there isn't a thing certain in baseball. The late Harry Pulliam made famous the remark: "Take nothing for granted in baseball." There are clubs in either league, which, if given the right start, kept free of injuries, and allowed to proceed at an even pace down the field, would be fully capable of getting under the wire first. Injuries to this or that club might intervene. Some star might crack and leave a void that could not be filled.
The top-notch baseball club, as a matter of course, must be a smoothly running machine. It must have no dissension; its players must be friendly and willing to pull together at all times. If there is a baseball club not possessing these attributes, no matter how strong its potential ability may make it look, lay a few shiekles that it cannot finish ahead. Mere grey-matter, ability to knock baseballs over fences, and to field like demons
—all are swept aside when the worry of grievous feelings creeps into a baseball club.
Happily, dissension has been driven out of most clubs in the big leagues —with greatest emphasis on the first division gangs. There was a time not so very long ago when things were not going overly nicely among clubs that had been picked to win pennants, and for that reason they were left in the rear.
It's called temperance in some quarters, but the real definition for the trouble-maker on a baseball club is "no good."
Chicago is going to have something to say about both pennants. St. Louis cannot be counted out of the National league first division, and no more can the Reds. The Dodgers and Braves have added strength. The Pirates, while stronger than a year ago, still look like a bad ball club, and the same goes for the former efficient Philadelphia National league club.
Cleveland will not be able to present so strong an array this year.
Boston has been strengthened some in the American league, and the National league club looks cheerier. The Yanks, with a new manager, may start all over. The Athletics and Browns are hopeless propositions.
The Tigers are barely weaker than a year ago.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO YULETIDE FUND WAS $903.97

Mrs. H. M. Robertson, Treasurer, Files Report
With C. of C.

That $903.97 was contributed to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce for the Orange County Yuletide Committee is shown by the financial report made by Mrs. H. M. Robertson, treasurer. Of the total contributions $757.24 was sent to the Southern California Yuletide Committee in Los Angeles, and $74.03 was spent on twenty-two boxes for Orange county boys in France. The balance was used in covering incidental expenses of the committee.
In addition to the amount sent by this committee to Los Angeles committee, Garden Grove sent $55, Seal Beach $26.50 and Fullerton $50, making a total from the county, as reported through the Chamber of Commerce, of $918.74.
The Santa Ana United Presbyterian
Sunday school also donated books for the boxes sent abroad, and the Santa Ana High School girls contributed a packed box for the Christmas season for soldiers.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

SAFETY RAZORS TO BE MADE IN BEACH TOWN

Company Organized, Part of Equipment Already on Hand to Start Work

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 22.—
The Stearns Electric Safety Razor Co. have recently incorporated with headquarters at Huntington Beach, and capital stock to the amount of 100,000 shares of a par value of one dollar per share. As soon as 25,000 shares are sold the company will immediately begin operations, as there is now on hand a considerable part of the machinery and dies. One of these razors is made up of two hundred and thirty-seven parts, and a man can shave himself with it in about one minute.
Among the recent arrivals in town was a nine-pound baby girl at the home of our genial constable, G. S.
Berger. The mother is doing finely and the doctor thinks that Gale has so far recovered from the shock that he is now out of danger.
Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Benton of Los Angeles, were in town Saturday looking after the sale of some lots on 17th street.

Ed Moore of Orange, spent Sunday in Huntington Beach with his son-in-law, Earl Farrar, and also attended the morning service at the M. E. church.

Sunday School Canvass
The several churches here have been making a check on the boys and girls in the city and they find that there are over one hundred that do not attend any Sunday School, and a campaign is now on to win this large number of boys and girls into some one of the Sunday Schools of the city, where their influence may be brought to bear on the building of proper characters for life's work, and better prepare them to cope with the evil influences under which they will be brought in the duties of life.

them since."

here, "but character is what everyone must possess both in this life and in the life to come. Good character is the jewel of great price; a jewel easily lost; one that costs constant effort to maintain, ceaseless toil to achieve; eternal vigilance to retain, and the glory of the ages to come."
A very strong wind from the northeast prevailed here Saturday. Saturday night, and somewhat Sunday morning. On large shade tree on Walnut avenue was blown over, and all the loose paper and tumble weeds about the town were on the move.
Rev. J. W. Towney, of the Christian church, has resigned his position as pastor, which will take effect in the near future.
Mrs. Joseph Copeland of Shullsburg, Wis., and her daughter, Miss Lessie Copeland, of Milwaukee, are visiting at the home of Judge Louis
A. Copeland. They are the mother and sister of the judge, and expect to spend the winter in Southern California.
All members of the Rebekah lodge are requested to be present for drill practice on Thursday evening, January 24.

New Family Arrives

Another eastern family has moved into the city—Mr. and Mrs. F. W.
Moore of Kansas City. Mr. Moore has accepted a position with the Beach Broom Co. They will reside at the corner of Sixth and Olive streets.

W. E. Tarbox, president of the City Board, C. R. Nutt, City Clerk, J. Tinsley, City Marshal, and C. W. Warner, City Recorder, were called before the Board of Supervisors relative to the disposition of motor vehicle fines collected within incorporated cities.

Yesterday morning a fire alarm was turned in from T. B. Talbert's home, but the flames were extinguished about the time the fire department arrived.

News was received yesterday from Tucson, Ariz., of the death of Mrs.
R. E. Graves, wife of the former cashier of the First National Bank here. Funeral services will be held at Long Beach Wednesday at 2 o'clock p. m., in charge of the Eastern Star.

PLANK, METHUSELAH OF BASEBALL TRADED

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 23.—Eddie Plank, the Methuselah of baseball, yesterday figured in a sensational trade, whereby the Browns acquired a good portion of the New York Yankees.

The "hero of Gettysburg," together with Derrill Pratt, went to the Yankees in exchange for Catcher Numamaker, Pitchers Culp and Shocker, Infielders Maisel and Gedeon and a cash consideration. The amount of money involved was not announced.
Plank, who has announced his retirement regularly every year for the last decade or so, had one of the best seasons of his career last year.

$60,000 STOLEN FROM DETROIT JEWEL FIRM

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 23.—Sixty thousand dollars worth of jewelry was stolen shortly before noon yesterday by three bandits who overpowered William R. Grainger, manager of the Ralph Dewey Jewelry Company in the downtown district. The bandits fired at Grainger to cow him before binding and gagging him. The robbery was discovered by a clerk fifteen minutes afterward.

FARMERS' NEEDS CONSIDERED IN NORTH DAKOTA

Special Legislature Convened to Pass Measure Giving Financial Succor

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 23.—The North Dakota legislature today convened in a special session called to pass legislation necessary to give financial aid to permit increased production.

Gov. Lynn J. Frazer, in his message to the special session, declared financial aid from the state is needed to relieve suffering among farmers.

Thousands of farmers, he said, are facing acute conditions because of the bad crop last fall. The average farmer in North Dakota raised less than seven bushels of low grade wheat to the acre. With government regulation of prices, he got an average of $1.85 a bushel for this wheat.
Gov. Frazer declared.

Eighty-five per cent of the population of North Dakota is agricultural.
These farmers, Gov. Frazer pointed out oversubscribed the Liberty Loan 73 per cent, after heavily drawing on their credit to plant increased acreages, as urged by the Federal Government.

A bill is ready for introduction in the house which will permit the state to extend its credit to farmers to the extent of $5,000,000, the amount estimated by Agricultural Commissioner Hagen, as needed.

Although Gov. Wold of the Ninth District Federal Reserve Bank at Minneapolis, is understood to have taken action in the situation, the bill providing this relief has become identified as a movement of the National Non-Partisan league. A. C. Townley, president of the league, appealed to President Wilson recently, asking for Federal relief. Rep. Baer, North Dakota, elected to his place in Congress on the league, introduced a similar bill at Washington. Both measures failed.

Because of the history of the movement, it is thought likely that the relief bill in the special session will meet determined opposition by the senate.
Prohibition leaders are expected to ask the special session to ratify the

CALLENS CASE FIGHT IS NOT YET FINISHED

Reported That Appeal Board Takes Same View As
That of Dr. Ball

A good deal of interest has been created here in the case of Joe Callens, farmer at Irvine, and in the decision of Dr. C. D. Ball, who heard Callens' claim for exemption upon the ground of agriculture and who stated that he would recommend to the appeal board that Callens' claim be denied.

Upon the request of friends of Callens here who believe that Callens can serve this country better by raising beets and barley than he can by carrying a gun Dr. Ball asked the appeal board not to pass upon Callens' case until next week so that further presentations might be made to the appeal board. In reviewing the case to the appeal board yesterday, Dr. Ball found that the board takes the same view that Dr. Ball did at the hearing here Monday night, that Callens, being a native of Belgium, ought to be in the army. At the hearing here Dr. Ball said that he did not think it would be right to be sending American-born boys to France and exempt a native Belgian upon his agricultural claim. There has been some talk of taking an appeal in the case to the President, should the appeal board deny Callens' claim. Callens himself is perfectly willing to go to war, but some of his friends take the ground that he is an exceptionally good farmer and raises a lot of war food, and ought to be exempted.

Rights of Registrants
Another matter of interest to appealing registrants that has been discussed is the fact that the appeal board hearings are in public. Local boards are prohibited by law from disclosing statements made in the questionnaires publicly.

Some Volunteers
Early this morning C. J. Over-shiner, chief clerk at the local exemption board, received the names of five volunteers for service in getting out special government reports. The work is without pay. Those who have reported that they are willing to give afternoons or evenings to the work are Rev. McDougal, Miss Beth Phillips, Miss Phinney of the high school, Mrs. R. L. Tedford of Old Newport and A. E. Carlson of 922 East Third street.

Physical Tests
Physical examinations will start on Monday and thereafter each day about fifteen registrants will be given physical examinations. Under the new orders Dr. D. F. Royer, member of the exemption board, is chairman of the medical advisory board. He and Dr. Wehrly will make the examinations, and if the work grows heavier than they can handle they will call upon Drs. Dubois, Tralle, Clark or other doctors.

Men ordered to appear before the local board for physical examination at 8 a. m., January 29, follow: Andrew J. Kay, San Bernardino; Ralph A. McGartt, Tustin; Antonio Rios, El Toro; Herbert E. IF NOT FOUND THEY WILL BE CLASSED AS DESERTERS FULLERTON, Jan. 23.—Here is a list of fellows that Sheriff C. E. Jackson is authorized to round up within five days from yesterday. If he cannot find them within that time they will be classed as deserters.

Questionnaires were mailed to these men, and as they have not filled out and filed same with the local exemption board, and the questionnaires were not returned by the postmasters as "uncalled for," the supposition is that they have wilfully refused to fill out, and file their questionnaires. The names follow: Clipes Cardoza, Fullerton; Louis V. Vargas, Placentia; Arturo Franco, San Diego; Takushiro Sakach, Buena Park; Mateo Barba, Huntington Beach; Daniel Suniga, Santa Ana; Martin F. Gottschalk, Wausaw, Wis.; Antonio Barejos, Los Alamitos; Jose Martinez, Westminster; Nasedon Hernandez, Los Alamitos; Mosias Cudros, Los Alamitos; Jesus Sierra, Buena Park; Kyotaro Iguchi, Talbert; Kiro Kichi Watanabe, Garden Grove; Santiago Ingo, Garden Grove; Carmon Cardenas, Fullerton.

NAVY DOESN'T WANT TWO RUNAWAYS PUT BACK IN ITS CARE

Last night Walter Laircy and Harry Burke, charged with stealing an automobile that belongs to Virgil Brusch, Jr., county sealer of weights and measures of San Diego county, were taken back to San Diego to be dealt with by the civil authorities.

Naval authorities stated to Sheriff Jackson that they did not want the pair. They said that since the two young men have been in the navy they have been a constant source of trouble. They were in the bullpen for overstaying leave at the time they left Monday. The naval officers preferred that the two be given a job by the state authorities. Since the boys had not been gone ten days they were not yet classed as deserters.

METEOR BURSTS, HITS IN ST. JOSEPH, MO.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 23.—A small piece of a meteor which flashed across the sky here early last night startling homeward crowds, hit the earth just east of the city limits. It struck in a yard close to a house and imbedded itself in the ground. There was a brilliant light lasting about thirty seconds, but no noise.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 23.—While passing over Topeka early last night a tremendous meteor exploded with a loud report, scattering a shower of glowing fragments. The meteor was traveling in an easterly direction. It passed over Topeka at 5:56.

CROWN STAGES HOLD THE ROAD

Railroad Commission Refuses to Give White Bus Line
Santa Ana Permit

By a ruling of the State Railroad Commission the White Bus Line is not to be allowed to establish a stage line between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

stated by the Crown Stage, whose attorneys, Bishop of Santa Ana and Lewis of Los Angeles, contended that the Crown Stages are giving satisfactory service and that the stage traffic is not sufficient to call for another line.

The decision of the state commission was in accordance with the request of the Crown Stage that it be not subjected to the competition of the White Bus Company.
